What is eduroam?

The University of Georgia is an eduroam participant. Eduroam is a secure roaming access wireless network available to any student, faculty and staff at participating eduroam institutions in the U.S. and abroad. eduroam allows students, faculty and staff of participating eduroam schools to get wireless access across institutions using their school's credentials.

eduroam provides a list of current U.S. participants and international participants.

eduroam is also available at the Gwinnett, Griffin and Health Sciences campuses.

Need help connecting to eduroam?

UGA is an eduroam participant. This is available to all UGA employees, students, and approved affiliates.

Related Articles

- How to Connect to eduroam
- What is eduroam?
- Can I use the eduroam wireless network?
- How to Connect to PAWS-Secure
- How much does it cost to get PAWS-Secure access in my building?
- Does PAWS-Secure work in the residence halls?